

ENFIELD TENNIS CLUB INCORPORATED

MEMBER CODE OF CONDUCT

Members of Enfield Tennis Club are expected to abide by the following code of conduct:

1. Respect the rights, dignity and worth of others regardless of their background, age, religion, or abilities.
2. Be fair to others on and off the court. Acknowledge all good plays whether they are made by your team or your opponent.
3. Welcome new members. Offer them a hit of tennis or to put them in touch with members with a similar skill level.
4. Assist volunteers and coaches by cooperating with requests or instructions – including but not limited to the organisation of teams and repayment of fees.
5. Participate for your own enjoyment and benefit as well of that of your team.
6. Give your best effort on court at all times.
7. Commit to playing most matches in a season. Communicate clearly and as soon as possible if you (or your child) cannot play a match.
8. Show respect to and opponents (i.e. shake hands before and after the game, introduce yourself and thank them for the match afterwards).
9. Stay at your match and support your teammates until all rubbers have been played.
10. No distracting, vilifying, abusing or sledging other players will be tolerated.
11. Keep yourself up to date with all policies of Enfield Tennis Club (see club room notice board or the website at www.tennis.com.au/enfield/club-policies).
12. If you have any grievances with another member of the Club, please ensure that you speak with the Member Protection Information Officer – Terry Brokate (email: ttbrokate@gmail.com, mobile: 0439 881 331).
